

Black Health

Get healthcare designed for Black health.

State Farm members have access to Included Health's Black Health, which provides concierge support for Black employees and their eligible dependents. Our Black-led care team connects members to vetted, high-quality and culturally competent care so they always feel seen, heard, and understood.

The right care, right when it's needed.

Get the highest-quality care.

A dedicated care coordinator will help with any healthcare need, including issues with costs, transportation, and availability.

Find the right in-network provider.

Whether it's primary, specialty, or mental health care, we find you a provider who has experience caring for Black bodies and minds.

Connect with community resources.

Discover local support groups for help with all sorts of physical and mental health needs.

How much does it cost?

Included Health is fully covered by State Farm and available at no cost to members or covered dependents.

Frequently Asked Questions

What's Included Health's Black Health?

We're a comprehensive care navigation platform for the Black community, connecting them and their loved ones with high-quality, culturally competent care.

How can I use Included Health?

First, activate your account online. Then, message or call us anytime you need care in the app or online.

Who is eligible for Included Health?

Black employees or employees who have a Black household member, including partners, spouses, and children, are eligible.

When should I use Included Health?

Whether it's making a first appointment or making sense of a final bill, we get Black employees the access and answers they need:

- Find a top doctor, specialist, or therapist.
We'll even book appointments.
- Get great pregnancy care.
We'll find the right OBGYN, help build a birth plan, find out if a breast pump is covered by insurance, and more.
- Learn more about insurance plans, benefits, and policies.
We'll tell members what's covered by insurance, which benefits match their needs, and how to make the most of employer policies.

What if I don't need care right now?

Become a member and start a relationship with a dedicated care coordinator today before care is needed tomorrow.

How much will this cost me?

Included Health doesn't cost a thing. It's an employer-covered benefit.
